Tuesday, March 10th

9:00 Welcome
Introductions by David Hawthorne and Christine Maietta

(Blue Room)

9:05 Introductions
Facilitated by Dana Graef

9:30 Foundations of the Policy Process
Presented by Joanna Goger, Laurie Alexander, and Doug Lipton

10:30 Break
Coffee, tea, and snacks available.

11:00 Immersion Scholars Rapid Talks
Doug Lipton: A Fine Kettle of Fish: Valuing the Timing of Fish Stock Assessments
Joanna Goger: Waters of the United States under the Clean Water Act: Making Sense of the Legal Morass
Laurie Alexander: Linked but Distinct: Navigating the Science/Policy Interface in EPA

(Open Space)

12:30 Networking Lunch
Postdocs invited to dine with scholars. Lunch provided by SESYNC.

1:30 Activity: Scientific Integrity Discussion
Facilitated by Immersion Scholars

2:30 Everything You Need to Know About U.S. Environmental Policy
Presented by Joanna Goger

3:00 Everything You Need to Know About the Role of Economics in Policy
Presented by Doug Lipton

3:30 Break
Coffee, tea, and snacks available.

4:00 Immersion Scholar Presentation: Assessments, Data, and the Policy Process
Presented by Laurie Alexander and Doug Lipton

5:00 Adjourn

6:00 Scholar Dinner
Wednesday, March 11th

9:00   Overview of Day 2
       (Blue Room)
       Presented by Christine Maietta

9:05   Opening Reflections
       Facilitated by Dana Graef

9:30   An Economist's View of the Challenges and Opportunities for Collaboration and Actionable Research
       Presented by Doug Lipton

10:15  Break
       Coffee, tea, and snacks available.

10:45  Could We Put This on an Org Chart? A Case Study of Highly Productive, Non-Hierarchical Collaboration
       Presented by Laurie Alexander

11:45  Klamath River Water Rights: Science and Policy
       Presented by Joanna Goger

12:30  Networking Lunch
       Postdocs invited to dine with scholars. Lunch provided by SESYNC.

1:30   Group Discussion: Actionable Science
       Led by Immersion Scholars

2:30   Panel Discussion: Scholars Reflections on Career Path
       Facilitated by Dana Graef

3:25   Say farewell to scholars.

3:30   Break
       Coffee, tea, and snacks available.

3:45   Postdocs Reflections with Immersion Organizers
       Facilitated by Christine, Dave, and Dana

4:00   Adjourn